ALL HAIL FEMINA'S LIST OF INDIA'S MOST POWERFUL WOMEN;
THEY MEAN BUSINESS...

MALLIKA SRINIVASAN

Chairperson and CEO of TAFE

Mallika Srinivasan presides over the world's third-largest tractor manufacturing firm, and her commitment to Indian agricultural machinery has taken the company from strength to strength. As the chairman and CEO of TAFE (Tractors and Farm Equipment Limited), Mallika has, over the last 25 years, seen revenues rise to their current figure at $1.6 billion. Reticent and media shy, she has many philanthropic projects under her wing—she supports Sanakara Nethralaya, the Cancer Institute in Chennai, among others. She's been ranked among the 125 most successful alumni of the Wharton School of Business and was conferred the Padma Shri earlier this year. >

"My mother leverages her strength beautifully and has a diverse perspective—women are particularly good at that and it is a huge corporate strength."
